F. L. Murphy, president of Farmer's National Bank accepts the portrait of bank founder, the late A. R. Harwood, Sr., from members of the family. Standing left to right are Mr. Murphy, A. R. Harwood, Jr., J. C. Caldwell, Jr., Mrs. Harold Caudle and Mrs. J. K. Marshall.

County librarians continue 22 years of service. Shown above are Mrs. J. A. Smith, former head librarian; Mrs. J. Newton Jennings, who resigned in May as librarian, and Mrs. A. R. Harwood, Jr., new county librarian. In front is Mrs. Verna Conner, assistant librarian, charging out a book to a young patron.

Library Offers Many Services

Since the first of the month, Mrs. A. R. Harwood, Jr., has been serving as "new Librarian, taking the place of Mrs. J. Newton Jennings who resigned in May. Mrs. Harwood returns to the post of head librarian after an absence of some years.

She was the first librarian to use the Appomattox County Library Building following its dedication in 1940. Her assistants at that time were the late Miss Gertrude Ranson, Mrs. Henry Beard, and Mrs. Larry Young.

When interviewed this week, Mrs. Harwood remarked, "Many people do not realize how many services our library offers."

"We are the center for all audio - visual aids such as slides, film strips, movies, records, and magazines. In addition we have an inter - loan agency with Longwood College and the State Library."

One of the other services of the local library is to circulate books to county schools. Mrs. Harwood takes books to Spout Spring, Vera, Oakville, Pamplin and Evergreen.

The book collection has grown to total of 20,335 titles.

School library books are purchased with State-aid. Current titles for adults are purchased each month according to need.

Mrs. Harwood stated in her interview that many improvements have been made in the schools, but feels that there is need for additional space in the County Library Building.

"The children's room needs to be moved from upstairs to the ground level," she added.

Since her graduation in the School of Library Science, College of William and Mary, Mrs. Harwood has served, in addition to Appomattox County, as librarian of the Claude Swanson, Jr., High in Arlington; and as first city supervisor of school libraries in Norfolk. She also served as summer instructor in the School of Library Science at William and Mary for three summers teaching Children's Literature, Adolescent Literature, and School Library Administration. During these years she also served as Chairman of the Library Section of the Virginia Education Association.

Mrs. Verna Conner continues as library assistant, a post she has held for the past five years.

The list of former librarians includes many well known names: Charles Ellis, of Rustburg; Mrs. Carolyn Moses Lusardi; Mrs. Kemp Nixon; Mary Rives Black. Mrs. J. A. Smith, and Mrs. Newton Jennings are among those who have served as librarians.

The first library patron to check out a book from the new library building in 1940 was Mrs. Lindsay Crawley. The name of the book is "Recollections" by William K. Bruce.

ABC Profits Swell County Town Treasuries

Appomattox County received $22,500 last month from state whisky profits under the profit-distribution plan set up by the Virginia General Assembly.

The town of Appomattox received $3,463, approximately the same amount it was received a year ago. Each locality received a sum equal to its 1960 population, amounting to almost $2.00.

Under the profit - distribution formula, the state gets the first $750,000 of net profits from the operation of state liquor stores. Of the remainder, two - thirds goes to the localities and one-third to the state.

Checks totaling $11,695,645 for the localities' share of state whisky profits, including $11,816,189 from the state's general fund, were mailed out from Richmond.

Childrens Home Society Opened

John L. Sneed, of Appomattox, will serve as chairman of this year's fund raising campaign in Appomattox County for Children's Home Society of Virginia, it was announced today. The drive will be conducted September 15 - 30.

W. A. Roper, president of the society said, "We are very fortunate to have Mr. Sneed head the campaign."

"The Society faces a constantly growing need for funds to take care of homeless babies and find suitable homes for them," Roper added.

"These babies must look to the people of Appomattox County and the other citizens of Virginia for help. We hope everyone will respond generously this year."

Exhibits And Good Weather Point To Record Fair Week

Homemakers and farmers, and future homemakers and future farmers, too have an opportunity to exhibit their handwork at the Five County Fair, now in progress at Farmville.

With fair weather so far this week and a full schedule promised for the rest of the week, the people of Appomattox are planning to see and be seen at this annual event.

"Miss Five County Fair" will be chosen tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m. from young ladies of the five counties participating, Appomattox, Buckingham, Charlotte, Cumberland and Prince Edward. Each contestant is sponsored by a Home Demonstration Club.

Tomorrow night the annual "Battle of Wits" will be held, with John Wilson of radio station WPLO as master of ceremonies, with M. H. Bittinger of Longwood College as moderator.

Saturday is Homecoming Day and Closing Night.

Grand prize for the week is a new automobile to be given away Saturday night at 11:40.

Among the many exhibits from Appomattox are those of FHA students at the high school. Sewing, handicraft and food products are on exhibit by Barbara Moore, Jane Paige, Cynthia Richardson, Carolyn Coleman, Barbara Thomas, Patricia Pasley, and Jane Williams.

In last night's dress revue, (Wednesday) spectators saw these models and their creations: Cynthia Richardson, Sarah Braford, Barbara Reid, Iris Garrett, Harriet Robinson, Barbara Thomas, Carolyn Coleman, Merlyn Martin, Jane Williams, Mary Watkins Booth, and Carolyn Hall, all home economics students of Appomattox High. At least one 4-H member, Mary Grey Holland, was also scheduled to model her dress.

As part of yesterday's Baked Products and Flower Shop open to FHA and 4-H students, these FHA members were scheduled to subgnit baked goods: Lois Morris, Dale Reynolds, Helen Thompson, Nancy Scruggs, Barbara Goin, Bennie Moore, Linda Rogers, Barbara Staples, Linda Wooten, June Wright, Marie Maddox, Barbara Gaines, Carolyn Goad, and Jemme Chuchek.

Feeder Steer Project Entries Deadline Set

The Lynchburg Feeder Calf Producers Association is sponsoring a Feeder Steer Project for 4-H and FFA members who live on farms located in the counties served by the Association. The objectives of this project are to teach some of the fundamentals involved in a feeder steer program . . .

To participate in the project, members must do the following:

1. Secure a minimum of three steers from a source of their choice by November 1, 1962, weighs, and record weights.

2. Feed an economical ration — one that will give gains of from 1 to 1½ pounds daily. A standard set of feed price figures will be used to compute score.

3. Calves must be sold through the organized feeder calf sales in Lynchburg, either in the 1963 Spring sales, or the 1963 year-ling steer sale site. Participants must sell all calves at one of the two sales. Cattle may not be split between the two.

Prize money will be pro rated among members selling in the spring sale and those selling in the fall sale.

Projects will be scored once on the farm and again when the calves are sold.

Placing and awards will be based on 25 per cent scoring and 75 per cent on return above feed costs. K. E. Loope, VPI Agricultural Economist, and A. N. Huff, Extension Animal Husbandman, will evaluate the records.

Entries must be submitted to the county agent's office by September 15, 1963.

FHA president models her own creation. Miss Merlyn K. Martin, a Junior at Appomattox High School, models a 4-piece outfit, her entry in the Five County Fair Fashion Show. Her ensemble includes Bermuda shorts and wrap-a-round skirt of ticking, with blouse of navy blue cotton. The vest is also ticking, trimmed in matching navy blue.

Two Local Men Arrested In Area Break-Ins

Three members of a reported burglary ring operating in Amherst County were arrested Saturday night, Sept. 1, by State Police, assisted by Bedford and Appomattox county officials.

Two of the three are local men, Ted Chandler, 20, and Clifford Chandler, 25, both of Route 3, Appomattox.

They were arrested by State Police Lt. L. E. Thomas and Troopers E. L. Jones, and Sheriff Walter Connor of Appomattox County. They were held in Appomattox jail pending further investigation and decision by officials of the counties involved.

The State Police Investigator said all three are charged with one count of statutory burglary in Amherst.

Chief of Police H. Mottley, of Amherst, said the men were connected with a break-in at the Amherst Laundramat.

Sheriff Connor, of Appomattox reported Tuesday, Sept. 11, that the men had admitted their part in two break-ins in Amherst County. They were scheduled to be moved Tuesday to Amherst County jail.

New Minister At Appomattox Adventist Church

William E. Carpenter, of Staunton, formerly secretary of the Sabbath School and Public Relations Departments of the Potomac Conference of Seventh-Day Adventist, preached his first sermon as pastor of the Appomattox Adventist Church last Sabbath, Sept. 8. He succeeds Lewis A. Stout who transferred to the Yale - Emporia district last May.

Paster Carpenter, is a native of Troy, N. Y., and a graduate of the Atlantic Union College.

Three Win At Horse Show

Appomattox County claimed three winners in the Lions Club Horse Show held last week end, Sept. 7-9 in Lynchburg.

This annual horse show is held by the Brookville - Timberlake Lions Club at the Arthur Stables at Timberlake.

Winner in Class 12, open walking horse, was Mr. Namron, owned and ridden by T. M. Trent, of Appomattox.

In Class 13, roadster to bike, P-38, owned by K. C. Paulette, of Appomattox was winner. TIM Trent was the driver.

In Class 14, amateur five - gaited, Top Assignment was declared winner. Her rider was Miss Teddie Green, of Driver, Virginia, a week end guest at the home of the Trents.

On Saturday night, Sept. 8, Mr. Zac Cheatham, of Everett, won the Roadster to Bike Stakes, driving Cannonball.

Rebels Roll Over Rock Hill 20 - 0

by "Buddy" Carson

The Appomattox Rebels, shifting into high gear, about four minutes after the 1962 season began, out classed Rock Hill Academy, of Charlottesville, Friday night, Sept. 7.

G. H. Jamerson took the opening kick off and returned it to the Rebels' thirty yard line. Six plays later the Rebels had their first score of the season with Billy Burke eating up the last thirty yards with a classy jaunt over left tackle.

The Rebels had to settle for six, however, as Jamerson was stopped on a wide sweep in the attempt for the extra point.

Early in the second quarter the Rebels were back at it again. The blue and white took the ball on their own thirty yard line and mounted a sustained drive of seventy yards, in eleven plays with Burke and G. H. Jamerson doing most of the hauling.

Jimmy Torrence capped the drive with a sparkling fifteen yard run as he started off right tackle, cut to the left, and behind beautiful blocking, sped into "pay-dirt.

The Rebels made it 13-0 as Jamerson rammed over right tackle for the extra point.

The Rebels kicked off at the beginning of the second half and for a while it seemed as though the Rock Hill defense was stiffening, but Coach Gordan Brang's high flying chargers were not to be denied a thrilling finish to a glorious night.

The Rebels took over the ball on their forty-five yard line, early in the fourth quarter, and roared into action once again, this time covering the last twenty-five yards with a spectacular pass play from Jimmy Torrence's pass to John Goin gave the Rebels their twentith point of the night.

The Appomattox victory was due largely to the tremendous line play of the interior lineman, led by Freddie Carter, Bill Bryant and company, assisted by Lawrence Haley, Buddy Wilcox, Elmer Phelps, Joe Mayberry, and Phillip Locado.

Carter, having one of the most sparkling performances of his career, time and again opened up tremendous holes for his back field teammates, and excited the large crowd of approximately 1,000 with his stunning defensive play as he roamed the field like a demon, pulling in about 30 tackles.

The determined Rock Hill Club fought savagely throughout the contest, but never got inside the Rebels thirty five yard line.

Although certain individuals shone, it was a tremendous team effort, and Coach Brazg very aply climaxed a fruitful night with, "We looked real good."

Enough Is Enough

It is reported that one Appomattox first grader came home from the first day at school and said, "All right, I've been to school now. Tomorrow I'm going fishing."

No business is good business, according to the Appomattox County Rescue Squad members on duty during the Labor Day week end included Jack Williams, Ralph Arrington, and Lester Tyree, shown above, with the ambulance. They had to call during the long Labor Day week end. "We are grateful for that", was their short and meaningful comment.

Plans For Rescue Squad Building

First plans are being drawn up by committees in the Appomattox Lions' Club, the Jaycees, the Rescue Squad, and the Appomattox Fire Department for a joint effort to locate a building site and secure funds for a building to house the Rescue Squad's ambulance and equipment — and possibly the Volunteer Fire Department plus a civic meeting room.

Present arrangements for both the Firemen and the Rescue are unsatisfactory according to representatives from each group.

A planning session first called on Friday evening, Sept. 7, will be rescheduled shortly, according to Dr. A. A. Fralrick, of the Lions' Club.

Having installed new lights on the football field last year, the Projects Committee of the Lions' Club has decided to work with these other groups to obtain a new civic building.

"What we need is land in a good location," said Lieutenant Ralph Arrington of the Rescue Squad on Friday night. "Then, we'll be well on our way to a new building."
